The map grid indicates various streets and locations within the city of Chico, California. The map includes symbols for bike paths, bike lanes, connector routes, medical facilities, schools, shopping centers, and other relevant points of interest. The legend provides a key to these symbols and other details about the map's content. The map is designed to assist cyclists and motorists in navigating the city's transportation network.